A description of the material subcontractor's organizational experience:
[REDACTED]  [REDACTED]  [REDACTED]
The processes the Proposer will implement to monitor and evaluate the performance of the material subcontractor to ensure that all contract requirements are met and to determine the return on investment:
Subcontractor Oversight As we do in other Medicaid states, Humana will hold every subcontractor to full compliance with all applicable provisions of the LDH Contract by implementing our standardized selection, monitoring, and oversight processes.  Experienced Partners While Humana has responsibility for and will continue to perform a majority of the functions required by its Contract with LDH, we also understand the importance of choosing and maintaining high quality subcontractor relationships where functional support is appropriate. Humana is committed to working with partners experienced in serving Medicaid enrollees and delivering services on behalf of our organization, with a focus on the "Triple Aim" of better health, better care, and lower costs. Prior to contracting, we evaluate our subcontractor candidates carefully, using a strategic and competitive six step procurement process. This includes internal and external cost analysis to optimize savings opportunities, a sourcing process that includes competitive bidding, contract negotiations, and implementation to ensure every potential partner satisfies all commercial, legal, and compliance standards. Ongoing monitoring and oversight includes all assessments and audits required by both regulation and contract at the time of functional delegation.

All Subcontractors Held to the State's Standards

All applicable legal, regulatory, and contract requirements flow to each subcontractor through the executed agreements specific to performed activities. Humana's robust subcontractor monitoring structure is coordinated across multiple teams at national and local levels. Our well-established delegation policies and procedures ensure consistency across Humana, and we require subcontractors to adhere to a formal Compliance Policy that contains written standards of conduct.

In Louisiana, local executive leadership will oversee the operations and performance of our subcontractors on a continuous basis, applying the LDH Contract requirements and Humana's national policies and procedures to local operations. A dedicated relationship manager for each subcontractor will be responsible for ongoing relationship maintenance and for monitoring subcontractors' performance in accordance with LDH Contract and Humana-specific requirements.

Regular Joint Operating Committee (JOC) meetings will be held with each subcontractor and relevant staff where performance will be assessed, and issues and opportunities will be escalated. Reporting and metrics are also a large part of the monitoring process. We track metrics and supply findings as specified by overseeing agencies, and if a subcontractor's performance does not meet performance standards, an improvement plan is developed and conducted with the subcontractor. All relevant information is submitted to overseeing agencies on timing as they identify.

Subcontractor Training and Review Ensure Compliance

Humana will implement a subcontractor attestation process such that subcontractors who deliver services as part of the LDH Contract must certify they have completed all necessary training and fully understand the requirements of the LDH Contract, state and federal laws, and all other applicable requirements. Activities performed by all subcontractors will be under the control and direction of Humana, and our subcontractors can perform no activity without appropriate Humana review, approval, and ongoing formal oversight.
